

Nursing Department Course Description

Course Number : (0901100)

Course Name: English for Nurses (1)

Number of credit hours: 3

This course is designed for nursing students with the purpose of enhancing and developing a professional level of writing within the nursing context. Writing-in-the-nursing discipline should ensure that students are able to document and explain, patient's history and findings. Effective documentation skills are essential in academic as well as professional contexts. In this course, attention is focused on the ESP component of the program.