

108270 Theories and Types of Translation (3 CH)

Acquainting students with the world of academic translation and discussing major theories, types and history of translation, problems of equivalence, communicative theory, linguistic theory, and the relationship between translation studies and other fields such as pragmatics, semiotics and semantics