

Prof. Dr. Omer Maaitah,

Mutah University, Jordan

Dr. Omer Maaitah is a Professor in Civil Engineering. He got his PhD in Civil Engineering from School of Arch and Civil Engineering - University of Bath, 1999, United Kingdom. At present, he is the dean of Faculty of Engineering. He is a member in the Institute of Jordan Engineers since 1992, British Geotechnical Society (BGS) since 1999, and Arab Organization for Human Right. His research interests include Unsaturated Soil, Soil Chemistry, Pavement Design and Soil Stabilization. He published more than 40 papers in different fields of Civil Engineering. In addition, he is the contact person in tempus project (joint ITS, 530632-TEMPUS-1-2012-1-SE-TEMPUS-JPCR). Also he is the contact person for many Esrasmus+ project at Mutah. Moreover, he participated in organizing of many workshops, seminars and conferences in the field of Energy, Renewable Energy and Green building.

