

3.3 Collaborations and health services

3.3.1 Current collaborations and health services

In alignment with Isra University's mission to bring its vision, principles, and philosophy to life, and in recognition of the essential role that health plays in the lives of students, the university established a Health Care Department, which includes a health centre and health insurance services. The centre is one of the largest among Jordanian universities and has been expanding to accommodate a growing number of patients. Staffed by distinguished professionals and equipped with advanced medical tools, the centre is designed to operate with high efficiency.

Isra University provides primary health care to all students registered at the Isra University Health Centre. Additionally, it offers medical services to university affiliates and visitors. Health care is further supported through a health insurance plan, which includes a comprehensive medical network that serves insured students, academic staff, and administrative employees.

- To ensure prompt emergency response, the university has also provided an ambulance, fully equipped to transport patients from campus to the health centre or nearby hospitals when necessary <https://iu.edu.jo/index.php/ar/health-care-std-iu/itemlist/category/57-health-department>
- In 2023, the university signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the International Academy for Community Health (IAAF). This memorandum includes provisions for organising scientific conferences, seminars, and training workshops, as well as exchanging expertise and collaborating on studies and research across various fields and topics of mutual interest. The link to this activity is provided below. <https://www.iu.edu.jo/index.php/ar/all-news/1255003489-iu-32409998>
- In 2023, Isra University and Novi Pazar University in Serbia signed a Memorandum of Understanding to strengthen their partnership and foster cooperation in scientific and research fields. <https://www.iu.edu.jo/index.php/ar/all-news/1255003408-iu-6511>
- Al-Isra University engaged in discussions with the International Academy of Community Health to explore joint academic cooperation and the exchange of training programs and professional diploma programs. This collaboration aims to support capacity building and provide the university with opportunities to benefit from various training courses. Through the Consulting and Training Centre, Al-Isra University is advancing its strategic plans by enhancing the skills and efficiency of academic and technical staff in its medical and allied health colleges, in collaboration with the Middle Eastern Organisation and the International Academy of Public Health (IAPH). <https://www.iu.edu.jo/index.php/ar/all-news/1255003377-iu40900>

- On September 2023, Isra University held discussions with the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) to explore avenues for joint academic cooperation. The meeting focused on fostering partnerships with universities within the DAAD network, applying for DAAD scholarships to study in Germany, understanding the benefits offered by the scholarship, and the application procedures. Additionally, the discussion covered opportunities for academic and research exchanges for faculty members, as well as collaborative research initiatives. <https://www.iu.edu.jo/index.php/ar/all-news/1255003369-iu-3240099>
- Collaborations between university and health institutions are essential for advancing research and education in healthcare.
